

Playhouse Volunteer FAQ

How do I apply to volunteer for the Playhouse Program?

Click here to apply to volunteer for our Playhouse Program. If you have any questions or comments, please contact volunteer@habitatgsf.org.

What are the requirements for volunteering?

You must be able to cover the sponsorship costs, which offset the cost of building materials and help fund our construction projects.

Can any groups schedule and build playhouses?

Yes. All types of groups are welcome to build playhouses.

Is there an age limit?

All volunteers must be at least 16 years old.

Is there a limit on group size?

Yes. Each individual playhouse allows for a maximum of 10 volunteers.

Can we build more than one playhouse?

Yes. You can build up to six playhouses per shift.

How long is each shift?

Three hours per playhouse. Construction work hours are generally limited to 8:30am to 4:30pm.

Does Habitat provide all tools, materials, and training?

Yes. We will provide all tools, materials, and training for groups.

Will Habitat's staff be on site?

Yes. Habitat staff members will be on site to lead and instruct the build day.

How do I become a regular volunteer for the playhouse build crew?

We're always looking for regular volunteers! If interested, please contact volunteer@habitatgsf.org.

Do you have examples of past playhouse builds?

Yes. Check out our Flickr page to view the Playhouse Program photo collection here.

Playhouse Partnership FAQ

Who receives the playhouses?

Habitat selects local nonprofit organizations and families to receive completed playhouses. In the past, completed playhouses were donated to Faces SF, Glide, YMCA SF, and other local nonprofits.

How do I receive a playhouse?

To see if you're eligible to receive a playhouse, or for more partnership information, please contact volunteer@habitatgsf.org.
